

The New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Foundation's School of Music, currently at Dillard University, is expected to move from the university campus to a newly-renovated facility. Scheduled to open in the fall of 2014, architect firm Eskew+Dumez+Ripple will make a historic two-story structure in the Treme neighborhood a permanent home for the Heritage School of Music.

Read more about the school here...