

Dillard's theater students are shown all aspects of show business...including the ugly parts. Former Dillard theater student Carlton Morton recently made waves and headlines after challenging one of the "The Real Housewives of Atlanta" stars for her inappropriate behavior toward other women. The segment ended with the housewife shouting expletives and requesting that her body guard remove Morton from the set.

Read more about the rising star and his story here...

