

Former Dillard University adjunct professor Erika McConduit takes over as Interim President and CEO of the Urban League of Greater New Orleans. Beginning in February, McConduit will take over full time in this position. She will co-lead the organization with Nolan Rollins until then. McConduit is a strong supporter of education and intends to focus on economic development as well as workforce development.

Read more about it in The Advocate...

---