

Dillard alumna and Board of Trustees member Ruth Simmons made history twice, in becoming the first woman and first African American to lead an Ivy League College.

Simmons has served on a number of boards, including the Dillard University's Board of Trustees, the Smithsonian's National Museum of African American History and Culture, and Texas Instruments.

Read more about on madamenoire.com...