

On Saturday, April 6, 2013 Dillard University will host a series of important and exciting events. Beginning with the return of the Family Health & Sports Festival hosted by the Office of Community Relations, the campus will also be home to the new International Arts & Music Festival, hosted by the Office of International Students & Study Abroad Programs. Finally, Dillard Theater celebrates 77 years with its production of "Dreamgirls", directed by Troy R. Poplous.

Read more about these events on nola.com...

---