

Dillard President Dr. Walter Kimbrough discusses the importance of attending college in The Chronicle of Higher Education.

"Colleges are places where students learn and grow through intellectual collisions in and out of class, with professors, staff, and peers, and where the community comes for similar experiences," says Dr. Kimbrough.

Or to modify a popular commercial: "College collisions? Priceless."

Read more about the importance of college on the chronicle.com...