

Dillard alumnus and recent Champions of the American Dream recipient Preston J. Edwards Sr. has announced he will publish his last print edition of The Black Collegian. Created in 1970, the magazine provided college students with information on opportunities that have allowed them to navigate the corporate world from entry-level opportunities, to exploring ways to advance to top levels in their careers.

Read more about the magazine here...

---