

In an article in HBCU Digest online, a staff member of Mississippi Valley State University discusses philanthropy and institutional advancement at HBCUs, in response to Dillard President Dr. Walter Kimbrough's op-ed in the L.A. Times.

"HBCUs must begin to proactively invest to a much greater measure in their own institutional philanthropic infrastructures," says author Dr. Zachary Faison Jr.

Read more of the response on hbcudigest.com...