

A successful conference, exhibition or trade show depends much on its surroundings. Set your corporate gathering apart from the rest. The educational environment of Dillard University promotes creative thinking and endorses your organizations' values on higher education.