BEHIND THE SCREENS

Network Operations, a segment of Disney Media and Entertainment Distribution, is hosting their fifth consecutive semester of Behind the Screens! This semester they are partnering with Kean University and Dillard University.

Behind the Screens is a college panel series in which university students who attend the panels are exposed to niche areas of network television and educated on unique career opportunities.

The private panel series is designed to be intimate allotting for about 25 participating students per school. Each week students will learn the ins and outs of network television through panel discussions with Disney employees from areas including Sales, Entertainment Marketing, Programming, ESPN, Production, Network Operations, and ABC News. Students will also have the space to come on camera and engage live as well as partake in interactive polling and questions throughout the panels.

This college panel series began in July 2020 as a result of the call for more diversity, inclusion, and exposure to what we do at the company as well as an opportunity to network with future talent interested in careers that occur behind the screens. Behind the Screens exists to empower students to enter the workforce and achieve their career aspirations!
